Greener Facts About Air.

The celebrated chemist of the sixteenth century who argued that it would be impossible for us to live on the earth's surface if the atmosphere should suddenly increase to twice its present thickness could not have been far wrong, after all—that is, if the experiments of Dr. Arnot are to be taken as conclusive. In his observations on atmospheric pressure at the bottoms of the deep mining shafts of Europe, Professor Arnot has found that the change between the readings of a barometer at the bottom of a 4,000 foot shaft and one at the surface is great enough to warrant him in making the statement that air at the bottom of a shaft 20 miles deep would be as dense as water. Figuring on the same ratio, he finds that if a hole could be sunk 40 miles into the bowels of the earth the density of the air at the bottom would be as great as that of quicksilver—St. Louis Republic.

Chameleon Spiders.

An interesting instance of color mimicry in spiders has been observed in the south of France. The spiders of that region when in search of prey hide in the convoluted flowers. It has been noticed that a white variety of spiders frequented the white flowers, a greenish colored variety made the green flowers his home, and a pink one lived principally in the pink flowers. The colors of the three varieties were at first supposed to be permanent, but it has recently been discovered that the color of any one of these spiders changes within a few days if the insect be placed in the convoluted of a different colored flower from that which he has been using as his home. Four spiders—pink, white, green and yellow in color—were all put in a box together, and within three days all were white.

She Controls a Newspaper.

Under the able management of Mrs. Marie Louise Myrick the American Times Recorder continues doing magnificent work. It is a fact not generally known to the public that last January Captain Myrick turned over to his wife the editorial management of The Times Recorder, devoting his time to the business of the paper. Since that time she has managed the editorial department, superintended the local and, in fact, had absolute editorial control. The Times Recorder is unquestionably one of the brightest and best of Georgia's dailies and is always found on the side of the people—Atlanta Constitution.

Monday Is Washday.

I don't see why it isn't just as well to hang out the family wash on Wednesday as upon Monday. Yet I have known women who wouldn't have a flat unless they could wash on Monday. As five floors of two families each can't dry in the back yard and on the roof on the same day, and the Monday prejudice is very strong, landlords have had to erect huge telegraph poles in the rear of flat houses, from which pole lines are operated on a level of each floor. This system also affords the additional pleasure of a near view of the number and character of your neighbors' family wash. There must be some substantial reason for a woman doing just as her neighbors do and what all women in the civilized world do and have been doing for hundreds of years—New York Herald.

The Luxurious Romans.

The Romans had no flower shows. There were "bread and circuses," but not bread and flowers. The luxurious Roman used roses in enormous quantities at his banquets. It was a fine joke to have roses fall from above on guests, reclining at their tables, and the flowers in such quantities as to smother them. A writer in The Quarterly recalls a picture of Alma Tadema's "The Rose Feast of Elagabalus," which shows the superabundance of roses. To spend on a banquet roses 4,000,000 sesterces, equivalent to about $160,000, is recorded by Suetonius, but possibly Suetonius exaggerates.

Roses in a Tomb Five Thousand Years Old. Flinders Petrie, the archaeologist, while excavating among some ancient Egyptian tombs, found a wreath of roses which had been bound into a garland and buried with the dead thousands of years ago. M. Crepin, the biologist and microscopist, made a careful examination of this wreath and prepared a paper on it, which he read before the Royal society of Belgium. From this paper it appears that in places where the flowers were matted together they still retained their color as well as a very faint odor. The expert to which they belong is now extinct, but a rose resembling them in several particulars is still grown in Egypt and Abyssinia—St. Louis Republic.

Assigned to It. "What does this here 'new woman' talk mean, John?" "Hit means, Maria," replied the old farmer, "that woman an' a taken the places what men occupied. You'll find the plow right where I left it, an' when you sharpen the ax you kin sail into a dozen cords o' wood, an' I'll have supper a bilin when you git home!"—Atlanta Constitution.

It is a common thing to find a piece of the little white dog of Yucatan, Tex. is the oldest settlement in the United States.

VIGOR OF MEN

Easily, Quickly, Permanently Restored.

CRIS MEDICAL CO., Buffalo, N. Y.

A Gentle Corrective

is what you need when your liver becomes inactive. It's what you get when you take Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets; they're free from the violence and the griping that come with the ordinary pill. The best medical authorities agree that in regulating the bowels mild methods are preferable. For every derangement of the liver, stomach and bowels, these tiny, sugar coated pills are most effective. They go about their work in an easy and natural way, and their good taste. Once used, they are always in favor. Being composed of the choicest, concentrated vegetable extracts, they cost much more than other pills found in the market, yet from forty to forty-four are put up in each sealed glass vial, as sold through druggists, at the price of the cheaper made pills.

"Pleasant Pellets" cure biliousness, sick and bloated head, dizziness, costiveness, or constipation, sour stomach, loss of appetite, coated tongue, indigestion, or dyspepsia, windy belching, "heartburn," pain and distress after eating, and kindred derangements of the liver, stomach and bowels. Put up in sealed glass vials, therefore always fresh and reliable. Whether as a laxative, or in larger doses, as a gently acting but searching cathartic, these little "Pellets" are unequalled. As a "dinner pill" to promote digestion, take one each day after dinner. To relieve the distress arising from over-eating, nothing equals one of these little "Pellets." They are tiny, sugar coated, and bilious granules. Any child readily takes them. Accept no substitute that may be recommended to be "just as good." It may be better for the dealer, because of paying him a better profit, but he is not the one who needs help.

A free sample (4 to 7 doses) on trial, is mailed to any address, post paid, on receipt of name and address on postal card. Address WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

EFFECT OF RISING AND FALLING PRICES.

Senator Stewart, who is hated and feared by Cleveland and Sherman and all the little goldbugs, more, perhaps, than any one man in the country, says in the Silver Knight:

"The country now sees the effect of falling prices, and it seems idle to be compelled to tell the people that it is not a good thing. No country has ever prospered or advanced in civilization while prices are falling. Every country which has made any progress in civilization has been able to do so through an increasing volume of money. Reason and experience teach us that falling prices lead to bankruptcy, ruin, slavery and barbarism; that rising prices lead to wealth, prosperity and a higher civilization. Times were good when Solomon built his temple because gold from the land of Ophir was abundant. Times were bad when the Roman legion occupied Jerusalem, and the money of Judea was transferred to Rome. Times were good in Greece when Athens was the University of the world and the armies of Greece were invincible, because the mountains of Thrace were furnishing an abundant supply of the precious metals. Times were bad in Greece when the mines were exhausted. The people being impoverished and without money to defend their country became a province of Rome. Times were good in Rome when her conquering heroes had robbed the world of gold and silver, and were enslaving their conquered enemies to mine in Spain and Italy because there were nearly two thousand millions of gold and silver in circulation in the empire. Times were bad when the barbarians of the north overran and conquered Rome because her mines had failed and her coin had disappeared by wear and loss, and Rome was conquered by poverty and want before the foot of a northern barbarian entered upon her soil. Fourteen hundred years of contraction of the money volume are called the Dark Ages, and people wonder why it was so called, but they do not reflect that poverty and want of money obscured the light of reason and humanity and filled the land with gloom and despair. A nation without money is dependant like a tramp, and meek and cowardly like a starving beggar."

ANOTHER TEWKSBURY ALMSHOUSE.

Two inmates of the county poor house of Spokane, Washington, escaped from that institution. They tell heart-rending tales of the cruelty of Superintendent Pittam and the sufferings of the unfortunate inmates. A powerful negro attendant beats the inmates without provocation. The poor are fed on the cheapest and poorest food procurable and complaints are answered with blows.

There is great indignation at Spokane, which is sixteen miles from the poor house. A prompt and thorough investigation has been demanded. The Superintendent has been arrested on charges of cruelty and mismanagement and bound over to answer to the Superior Court.

If the charges made against the management of the poor house are true investigation may reveal a condition of affairs equal to that which existed in the Tewksbury Almshouse in Massachusetts when General Butler exposed its horrors. It is not charged, however, that the skins of the paupers have been tanned at Spokane to make fancy slippers, as General Butler showed had been done at the Tewksbury establishment.

AN INTERESTING QUESTION.

A Chinaman named Wong Kim Ak, who has been out of the United States for some time, wants to land in San Francisco as a citizen because he was born in that city. The Government officials claim that as Ak was born of Chinese parents, subjects of the Emperor of China, and not eligible to become citizens of the United States, he is not a citizen and cannot become a citizen. Ak on the other hand, claims that the fact that he was born on American soil makes him an American and entitled to all the rights and privileges of citizenship. The question, whether Ak is an American, entitled to land in the United States, or a Chinese, debarred by the laws from becoming a citizen, has been submitted to Judge Morrow of the United States Court. The decision of the Court will determine whether several hundred Chinese born in San Francisco and residents of California are American citizens or subjects of the Emperor of China.

EXCHANGING PRISONERS.

The capture of Spanish officers of high rank by the Cuban insurgents has forced the Spaniards to admit that war exists between Spain and Cuba. Heretofore the Spanish authorities treated the insurgents as outlaws, entitled to no rights or privileges. If any of them were taken prisoners they were shot down without trial by judge or jury. Now the status of insurgents is changed. They have several Spanish officers in their hands and negotiations have been opened with them for an exchange of prisoners. That is an admission on the part of the Spaniards that there is a revolution in Cuba. If the United States Government will concede as much and recognize the Cubans as belligerents it will materially assist their cause. Then volunteers from the United States would only have to run the blockade on the Cuban Coast; now they have to "evade" the United States authorities to get to sea and the Spanish war vessels to effect a landing in Cuba.

THE DENVER MESSIAH.

A Woman Leaps Into the Ocean From the Coronado Pier.

THE ARMENIAN OUTRAGES.

Charges Against Three Prominent Citizens of San Francisco.

HOARY HEADED SCOUNDRELS.

Charged With Committing Crimes Unparalleled in the Annals of San Francisco.

SAN FRANCISCO, November 14.—Three hoary-headed men have been arraigned before Police Judge Campbell to answer to charges unparalleled in the annals of the local courts. They are Captain Lane and Leon Meyer, capitalists, and Philip Ratz, a prominent citizen. Lane is nearly 80 years old, almost blind and very infirm. Meyer is 71 and apparently possessed of all his faculties. Ratz is a much younger man. The three men are charged with outraging young girls. Already the police have taken in charge eight little girls ranging in age from 8 to 13 years, and they state that twenty-two or more girls of about the same age will be called to testify against the men. The venerable trio made their headquarters at the house of Captain Lane, who is said to be worth $200,000. In that house the girls, ranging from 8 to 13, were brought by an elder girl, who received twenty-five cents for each recruit she brought to the den of vice. Eight little girls appeared in the court to-day and identified the men. The surgeon of the Receiving Hospital examined a number of the infants to-day and was horrified at the result of his examination. He said there was no doubt that the children had been outraged. Judge Campbell held the men in $6,000 bail and they will be examined next Friday. The Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Children has been investigating the case and claim to have evidence that will convict the men of the crimes charged against them.

PROBABLE SUICIDE.

A Woman Supposed to Have Jumped Into the Ocean.

SAN DIEGO, Nov. 14.—Mrs. B. A. Harris of South Bend, Ind., who has been here since last July in order to be near her son, Norman L. Harris, who has been attending a medical college in Los Angeles, is believed to have committed suicide last Sunday night by leaping into the ocean from the pier at Coronado. The last seen of her was on Sunday afternoon in this city, and on Monday morning her parasol, bonnet, pocketbook and a small box, which had contained morphine pills, were found at the pier at Coronado. Her son was expecting her to go to Los Angeles Sunday night, but her failure to arrive or answer a telegram of inquiry induced him to come down last night.

In her valise at her boarding house he found a letter addressed to her husband, a traveling salesman at Columbus, Ohio, in which she stated that she would jump from the pier, as she believed she was becoming crazy from worry over her son's health, which had been the reason for his coming to this coast. Her financial condition is also given for the reason of her rash act. No domestic trouble of any kind was in the family. She was 57 years old. Search is being made along the coast for her body.

HEALER SCHLATTER.

He Suddenly Disappears from Denver. DENVER, Nov. 14.—Francis Schlatter, the so-called healer and Messiah, disappeared last night, and a warrant for his arrest has been issued from the United States Court. He had been summoned to appear before the United States Commissioner to-day as a witness against persons arrested on a charge of using the mails to defraud by pretending to sell handkerchiefs blessed by Schlatter. The accused claimed they could prove that Schlatter had really blessed a bale of handkerchiefs for them, and in that case it is said he was liable to indictment. He left a note simply saying: "My mission in Denver is ended." Over 4,000 people assembled this morning expecting to receive treatment from Schlatter.

A Murderous Lunatic.

PARIS, November 14.—M. Domergue, a wine merchant, suddenly became insane and killed a number of people. He shot his wife and mother and then opened fire on the people of the streets, killing three and wounding others. The madman barricaded himself in the house and fired upon the gendarmes who surrounded the building.

Convicted of Robbery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—William E. Paulsell, who in February of last year made a sensational attempt to rob a safe bank, was convicted of robbery in Judge Belcher's Court to-day. This was Paulsell's second trial, the first having resulted in a disagreement. His conviction was something of a surprise to his friends.

DEPARTMENT OF CALIFORNIA.

General Forsythe Reports on the Condition of the Military.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—The annual report of General J. W. Forsythe, commanding the Department of California, shows that the condition of that Department, with respect to discipline, is excellent. During the past year, he says, there has been a marked decrease in the number of desertions. He says that officers and men are efficient and are satisfactorily drilled and instructed. The supplies are properly distributed and the proper care exercised in the purchase and preservation of public property, and the proper economy practiced in all public expenditures.

Murdered by His Room-mate.

MARYSVILLE, Cal., November 14.—When the steward of the County Hospital went to a room in which were confined two insane men, he found that one of them, O. Deyoe, had been murdered by his room-mate, Charles Thresher, during the night. The body was lying on the floor and an examination showed that he had been strangled and that his breastbone had been fractured in the struggle. Thresher confessed to the killing, but could give no reason for committing the crime except that Deyoe had got up from his cot during the night and would not go back when Thresher told him to.

Thresher, who is undoubtedly insane, will be charged with the crime, but that is as far as the matter will go as he is to be sent to an asylum.

Immigrants Suffering.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 14.—It is reported that 25 immigrants on their way to California from Oklahoma are in a fearful condition on the Colorado desert. They have abandoned their worn-out horses and their food is almost exhausted. A Southern Pacific train stopped and gave them a barrel of water.

Lowered the Record.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., November 14.—Last night at Fountain Ferry, R. P. Searle, a New York and Chicago rider, lowered the American record for 100 miles from 4 hours and 27 minutes to 4 hours and 22½ minutes.

Russian War Ships Ordered to Turkey.

ST. PETERSBURG, November 14.—Five Russian warships have been ordered to start immediately for the Mediterranean for the proposed naval demonstration against Turkey, arising out of the Armenian question.

Armenian Outrage.

BERLIN, Nov. 14.—A dispatch to the Cologne Gazette from Constantinople says that the Armenian Christian teachers in the Trebizond and Erzerum districts have been killed.

A Household Treasure.

D. W. Fuller, of Canajoharie, N. Y., says that he always keeps Dr. King's New Discovery in the house, and his family have always found the very best results follow its use; that he would not be without it, if procurable. G. Dykeman, Druggist, Catskill, N. Y., says that Dr. King's New Discovery is undoubtedly the best Cough remedy; that he has used it in his family for eight years, and it has never failed to do all that is claimed for it. Why not try a remedy so long tried and tested. Trial bottles free at S. J. Hodgkinson's, Drug Store. Regular size 50c. and $1.00.

A Bad Outlook.

Several attachment suits have been filed at the Silver Peak Mining District for supplies and material furnished. It is rumored that the men who have been working at the mines have not been paid for several months and are obliged to strike out without a dollar in their pockets. It is thought that unless the attachments can be settled, all operations will be suspended.

THE TRIAL OF JAMES HENRY—FOURTH DAY.

U.S. Mint Inspector Mason on the Stand—Interesting Shortage Testimony.

(Correspondence of the JOURNAL.)

CARSON CITY, November 14, 1895.

The books of the mint required in this case were brought into court this morning, also a shoe bar or ingot of the bogus or illegitimate melt referred to in Mason's testimony yesterday.

Andrew Mason resumed: "This bar is one of eleven or twelve composing the spurious melt. Its number is marked 164, on the bar. The genuine melt is recorded on the book as gold deposit No. 77, in the name of C. H. Peters for the Standard mine, Bodie, November 27, 1894, 2,146 ounces, 2,155 also marked on the bar indicates the weight of the melt when it came from the melting room and is its basis of valuation; 77 indicates the number of the melt for that fiscal year.

"My opinion is that this spurious melt was undoubtedly substituted for the original. It could be made in the works of the mint and was done before the annual settlement in June, 1893. With regard to my examination of the books of the mint and my competency to do so I may say that I am an expert in bookkeeping, having studied and had experience therein. I found at the completion of my investigation that the entire shortage or deficiency amounted to $75,549 75.

With regard to the Melter and Refiner, if he gets all out of the bullion that there is in it, there should be more gold coming to him than he is charged with. During the fiscal year ending June 1893, 49,414 ounces went up to the refinery and 49,814 ounces came back, giving him a surplus of 600 ounces, showing good and careful work (John H. Dennis was melter and refiner at the time). In working 60,000 ounces, the excess allowed by the Government for loss, shortage, etc., would amount to 300 ounces, or $6,000; but the melter and refiner must not be found short.

I have not made a thorough examination of all the books of the mint, but what I have considered sufficient for this investigation. The books show a full settlement and clearance in 1893, at which time the outgoing officials were given a clear receipt by Morgan and Haskell, the Government inspectors sent to attend to it.

Some of the books of the mint were looked into and discussed for a short time, and the Court stated that it being now noon counsel would be free to examine the books during the recess, which was then taken till 1:30 P. M.

AFTERNOON SESSION.

Mason being on the stand, with Coffin conducting the cross-examination. Witness was shown the melter and refiner's memorandum book of settlement bars, 1893; the superintendent's gold bullion account book and others in which he found sundry discrepancies. The reading of items and discussion over these books occupied considerable time with no important result, and witness stated that he was not sent here especially to make a thorough and extended examination of the books, but to investigate and squarely define the alleged shortage, which specific object he had accomplished. He was sent here to inquire into and investigate, and not to be cross-examined himself or to do special detective duty, yet he had examined the roof of the mint, the furniture, chimney, settling tanks, etc., finding but a mere trifle of loss or shortage.

Sundry specimen bars of bullion from the mint were examined and discussed as to their marking and record, including one from the famous spurious melt. Witness stated that in the examination and assay of the bars in the vaults of the mint hunting up the shortage they did not detect this spurious melt until they came to it, not being noticeable by its color. It is difficult to detect gold in a silver bar by its color, unless the gold predominates to a considerable extent.

In the assayer's account book witness recognized certain "odds and ends," as he said, in the way of shortage to be referred to hereafter. Wrong numbers were shown on wrong pages. In the records of consolidation melts he found some pages torn out, or considered so. He found the first shortage of the mint in the month of July, 1894, amounting to about $22,000. From June, 1894, to March, 1895, there was a shortage or loss of $7,000 by the nitric process. This occurred in the refinery. As to the experience of Melter and Refiner Harris witness knew nothing, but he had heard it said that if Harris had known before he got the position what a risk he was taking he would never have taken it.

At 4:30 court took recess till 10:30 to-morrow.

LOCAL AND GENERAL NEWS.

Items From Here, There and Every-where.

One thousand head of steers and 700 head of cows are on their way to Winnemucca from Miller & Lux's Oregon ranches for shipment. The cattle are in three drives and will arrive between now and the 20th inst.—Silver State.

The Dispatch says Geo. Ladd, who is associated with P. N. Marker in the gold claim in American canyon, came in Saturday and reports good prospects in their mines. Mr. Ladd has abandoned work on his placer diggings until spring, having done about four thousand dollars worth of work this year.

A Salt Lake paper states that within a few days there will be 2,000 head of cattle eating sugar beet pulp at the new feeding pens near the factory of the Utah Sugar Company. Very extensive preparations have been made for the care of the feeders during the coming winter and it is anticipated that with the opening of spring the cattle will be in prime condition for marketing.

The Silver State says District Attorney Buckner and Charles Leonard have returned from their northern trip. They examined several prospects in Pueblo mountain, near Denio's, and think very favorable of them. Very little more than surface prospecting has been done in that district, but ore from the different locations pans out well in gold. The district lies on the line between Nevada and Oregon, locations being in each State.

ON THE FIELD OF HONOR.

A Former Renote a Principal in a Duel.

Wednesday's Examiner publishes an account of a duel between W. R. McVeigh and Paul T. Wilkes, two prominent young men from New York. The direct cause of the encounter is a secret, but it was made to appear that a quarrel was the cause of the meeting. Pistols were chosen as the weapons, the distance was to be twenty paces and after the first shot the principals were to advance and fire at will. Fort Lee, near New York, was chosen as the place of combat. The preliminaries of the duel were arranged at the Hoffman House and early on the following morning the duelists and their second repaired to the place selected. The ground was soon measured and instructions hurriedly given and the firing commenced. Five shots rang out and the men advanced to within eight paces of each other. Both men were severely wounded, but not dangerously. The seconds declared that the honor of their principals had been satisfied, and the men retired from the field. Soon afterwards they met and shook hands and the party returned to New York. It is thought by many that Wilkes is the Paul Tupper Wilkes that formerly attended the State University.

ALFALFA FUNGUS.

A Poisonous Growth Which is Fatal to Cattle.

Dr. H. W. Harkness of Sacramento, President of the California Academy of Sciences, believes that the death of a number of cattle near Elk Grove recently is due to a poisonous fungus growth on the alfalfa in that region. Dr. Harkness appeared before the Board of Supervisors of Sacramento county and exhibited specimens of infected grass. The fungi were brown blotches like rust on grass. "The fungi is known as dothidia," said the scientist, "and it may be found in Italy and California wherever alfalfa grows. Two years ago I investigated the cause of the death of several thousand head of cattle near Bakersfield, which had been imported from Arizona. Death was found to have been due to this poisonous growth on the alfalfa. We saved the rest of the herd merely by turning it out on a dry field."

Dr. Harkness says the fungus is fatal only in the month of October. It is washed away by the heavy winter rains and after that the alfalfa is wholesome again.

MERRILL INSANE.

THE STORY OF THE DOUBLE MURDER.

Simply the Ravings of a Maniac—Examined by Physicians and Sent to the Asylum.

Merrill, the man who told such a terrible story of an awful crime that had been committed at Flannigan's sheep camp last Saturday in which two shepherders had been murdered, was examined by Drs. Lewis and Thoma yesterday afternoon for insanity and committed to the Asylum. He raved off and on all of Wednesday night and conducted himself in a manner that left little doubt that the man was a maniac. Pearl and Linton, the men who came in to notify the authorities, appeared and told their experience with Merrill; and the patient listened attentively and admitted the truth of their statements. Merrill did not talk much of the supposed murder, but told of the dark valley of death and how he had crossed it, and said that it was impossible for him to describe what he had seen. At the conclusion of the examination he said he was in the hands of God and would have to abide by the consequences. He was taken to the Asylum in the afternoon. At about 4:30 Sheriff Coughlin and Mr. Flannigan returned from their trip. They did not go to the camp, but sent some Indians to find the shepherders, Joe and Jose. The Indians returned and reported the men all right and nothing in the killing at all. The Sheriff did not see Benoit, but is satisfied from what he heard that he had not known anything about the actions of Merrill. Mr. Coughlin and Mr. Flannigan say that nearly everyone in the neighborhood were excited and alarmed at the way Merrill was going on. The whole thing was simply the ravings of an insane man, and while he told a pretty straight story, investigation proved there was not the least foundation for it.

Messrs. Pearl and Linton, who came to town to report what Merrill had told them were not experts on insanity and fully believed that Merrill had told them the truth. They considered that they were doing their duty, and that if a crime had been committed it was the proper thing for them to notify the authorities whose duty it was to look into the matter. They say they rode fifty-three miles to do this and that they had paid their own expenses; that their interest in the affair was in good faith and without any intention of creating a sensation. That they are as much pleased as anyone that no murder has been committed, and regret the unfortunate condition of Merrill. They also regret that they have been the cause of putting the authorities or Mr. Flannigan to any expense or trouble, but were satisfied from Merrill's story that it was their duty as citizens to take the step they did. They both feel somewhat chagrined, and the criticisms that have been made on their action, they consider not well founded.

His Words Verified.

About 25 years ago a certain southern man brought a suit against the South Carolina railroad for damages to his property. He lost the case in the superior court, but insisted upon carrying it to the supreme court, where he represented his own cause. He began his argument by saying whimsically: "May it please the court, there is an old French adage which says, 'A man who is his own lawyer hath a fool for a client.'"

The next week the supreme court pronounced its decision, which was adverse to the southerner. He was in Augusta at the time, but received the announcement of his second and final disappointment by means of a telegram sent him by a prominent judge, who was an intimate friend of his.

The telegram read as follows: "Judgment for defendant in error. French adage affirmed by supreme court."—Youth's Companion.

Must Be So.

"What do you think of this previous existence theory?"
"I know it to be supported by facts. For instance, I know a woman only 27 years old who often thoughtfully tells about things that happened 35 years ago."—Indianapolis Journal.

To Prevent Chapping.

As cold weather approaches women try to devise means for preventing hands and lips from chapping. An excellent remedy to prevent chapping is cold cream. The manufacturer told me that it also whitens the skin more than any preparation. It has taken the place of the old time remedy—mutton suet. It should be well rubbed into the skin, and gloves—preferably white—slipped on. The palms of the gloves should be slit in several places to allow the air and prevent cramp of the muscle, and the finger tips slipped off.

Vaseline should never touch the hands. It turns the skin yellow and leaves a stain on the nails that is hard to clear away.—New York World.

Removes the Odor.

A paste of ground mustard and water is a first rate agent for removing traces of disagreeable smelling substances from the hands, such as salts of valerianic acid, cod liver oil, etc. Haver claims that any oily seeds when powdered will answer this purpose. The smell of carbolic acid may be removed by rubbing with dampened flannel.

Could Not Be Cured So They Said and So I Thought

But Hood's Sarsaparilla Did Cure. "For 7 long years I was a constant sufferer with indigestion, and I tried prescriptions and remedies until I became so low that I had given up all hope of recovery, and my friends thought also that I could not be cured. The poison in my blood had set in deeply, and my limbs were a Solid Mass of Sores. I was confined to the house and to my bed most of the time. I happened to read an advertisement of Hood's Sarsaparilla in Hood's Sarsaparilla Cures the paper and I at once prevailed upon my husband to let me try it. I got one bottle and it did me so much good that I kept using it until I had taken twelve bottles and now I am entirely cured. I am a well and hearty woman and can do my work with all ease and comfort." Mrs. LOUISA MATLOCK, Bonita, Texas.

MINING OF PHOSPHATES.
Where Deposits Are Found and How They Are Explored.

The Florida phosphate deposits are of great importance, yet their existence was discovered so recently and their extent is still so uncertain that few persons not engaged in the sale of fertilizing materials have much knowledge of the large industry which has sprung up in the Peninsular State. It has practically created a new city—Ocala—which had a population of but a few hundred in 1870, but is now a thriving business center with modern improvements, banking facilities and ample railway and transportation facilities. Engineering, the leading engineering journal of the world, makes the following statements concerning the region, which are of considerable interest as coming from an unbiased source: "There is no phosphate region in the world known today that possesses so many advantages for successful mining as the Florida deposits. The grade of material is the highest average that is being worked anywhere.
The facilities for moving the products to points for distribution are good. The average distance from mines to ports for shipments is about 150 miles.

"The distributing stations for the hard rock district are Port Tampa, Fernandina, Brunswick and Savannah, the largest tonnage being moved from Fernandina, where storage bins are located and loading facilities are good. Port Tampa, the terminus of the Plant system of railroads, is constantly adding facilities for prompt handling of cargoes of phosphate and at present very nearly equals Fernandina in the amount of its shipments. Railroad are numerous and cheaply constructed when necessary to extend them into new sections. The machinery needed to mine and prepare the material is simple and inexpensive compared with that generally used in other mining operations, and the cost of a plant with sufficient land to work upon is within the reach of small investors. The working days at the mines are about 280 during the year. The climate is healthful, laborers readily obtained at a fair compensation, and skilled operatives are at hand who are becoming familiar with the business.

"The mining camps are generally well regulated, and proprietors and employees can reside at the mines with safety and with little inconvenience, as supplies of all kinds can be readily obtained at the towns located in the near vicinity of all the large mining fields.
Telegraph and mail facilities are within easy access of nearly every mining camp in the state. Florida phosphates are mostly shipped to European ports and are manufactured into fertilizers in England, Ireland, Germany, France, and quite recently shipments have been made to the Sandwich Islands. Foreign agents of consumers and dealers in phosphates have their offices near the center of production, and contracts for delivery and prices are commonly fixed at points of shipment, the material being sold at a price per unit of its contents of phosphate of lime. The Florida phosphates are all used in the manufacture of commercial fertilizers and superphos-phate."—Boston Transcript.

have been so long accustomed to working nights and sleeping days that I find it difficult to change back to the hours of other folks. Instead of having my breakfast at 7 o'clock in the morning I have it at 7 o'clock in the evening. Some folks make their dinner the last meal in the day, but I never could get used to that. I can sleep better on a light meal, so I have my dinner in the middle of the day—I mean the middle of the night—and my supper about 5 o'clock in the morning.

"This schedule works all right for the first half of the night. There's plenty of life then, and I can go to the theater and one place and another, but after dinner, I must say, I find it pretty tedious. When I was at work and my mind was occupied, I never thought anything about it, but now it is different. This is a bigger town than it used to be, and it's open all night. There's plenty of occupations nowadays that people work at all night, but the people that work at 'em are working at 'em.
You don't see 'em around the streets, and the general fact remains that most people work days and sleep nights, and the cold fact is that from dinner time to supper time I feel sort of lost.

"But I'm not discouraged. I don't suppose I could change the habits of a lifetime in a minute, and I shall just keep on trying till I get my hours shifted around again like other people's."—

Trunk Labels.
"I wish you would have a porter come up and wash the labels off my trunks," remarked a well dressed man as he signed his name to the book at the Continental last night. The guest as he spoke pointed to three big trunks that stood in the baggage room. The trunks were covered with the various labels that indicated that they had made a long continental journey. In days gone by these labels were the proper thing, and the man just home from Europe considered those glaring tags as almost sacred. But fashion has changed this year, thanks of the Prince of Wales setting the pace, and now these glaring showbills indicative of travel are no longer in vogue.—Philadelphia Inquirer.

A Redeeming Feature.
A.—My dwelling is bounded on the north by a gas works, on the south by an india rubber works, on the west by a vinegar manufactory and on the east by a glue boiling establishment.

B.—A nice neighborhood, I must say.

A.—Quite so; but it has one advantage. I can always tell which way the wind blows without looking at the weathercock.—Humorist's Blatter

I have also seen the world, and after long experience have discovered that enough is our greatest enemy and compensative labor our most lasting friend.

THE DESTRUCTIVE TEREDO.

Filing of Wharves and Railroad Trestles Ruined by It.

The teredo is the most destructive marine animal we have. It enters the submerged part of the piling of wharves or railroad trestles and bores into the interior. When it penetrates the surface of the wood it is about the size of a pin, but increases in size, always lengthening, but never leaving any part of the hole it bores until its full mission is accomplished. In this way it stretches from the original pin hole entrance far into the interior of the wood and swells in size to the diameter of a large lead pencil. At the big end are the cutters, two clam shells that rotate from side to side and cut a smooth, round hole. The worm sometimes attains the length of ten inches.

Hundreds of such worms attack the exposed wood at the same time, and in a short time honeycomb it. However numerous they are, they never interfere with one another, and no instance is found where one borer has cut into or crossed the boring of his neighbor, though the partitions left between the borings are sometimes no thicker than a sheet of paper. Another peculiarity is that as the places of entrance are no larger than pin heads and the worms remain and do their growing inside, the wood may be almost entirely consumed inside, yet the surface appears sound and unaffected. Suddenly, without the slightest warning, the wooden pile gives way and its fellows follow in short order, and the wharf which appeared substantial is wholly ruined.

To combat the teredo many expedients have been resorted to. One is to sheathe the surface of the wood with broad headed tacks—the rust from which spreads so as to discourage the teredo's operations. Still another method is to boil the wood in creosote under heavy steam pressure, so that the creosote saturates the fibers of the wood.

All these methods are efficacious, and the creosote process is used with perfect success in wharf and trestle building all along the gulf coast. Its cost is the chief drawback, a single stick of creosote timber costing sometimes as much as $50—Mobile Register.

SOME PERSONAL PECULIARITIES.

Eccentricities That Fasten Themselves to Men With the Firmness of Habit.

The late Senator Reagan of Texas used to do his thinking with a short strag on his fingers, and this string he wound up and twisted and untied and tied again mechanically as he followed the debate. Senator Vest always chews a quill toothpick. Carlisle used to tear paper into bits and drop the pieces one by one on the floor. The latter is a tobacco chewer and sputters when he talks, making it uncomfortable for the interviewer.

Max Freeman, the expert stage manager, pulls you by the coat lapel and then pushes you away with his thumb in the most embarrassing manner. He will suddenly pull you, and then, as if he feared you are likely to tread on him, push you away from him quite as unexpectedly.

Jim Thompson, who aspires to be the best dressed man in town, and comes pretty close to it, has been trying to raise a mustache, but his habit of fingering one side of it wears that section out, and then the whole must be shaved off and he has to begin over again.

A gentleman comes down through Herald square every day who may be seen glancing at his left shoulder and flicking at it with his right hand.
There isn't anything there—not even the nap of his coat, which he has thus worn away. Yet he will keep pecking at it about twice a minute. Another man of my acquaintance is always glancing from one shoulder to the other, as if to see if they are yet really there.

A popular Pittsburgher on the square sounds your lungs with his forefinger while he talks to you—tapping away like a woodpecker on a hollow limb.

Another from the same burg—a good story teller—always emphasizes his stories with liberal punches in your ribs.—
